

Vojvodina Waterfall

Україна, водоспад Воеводин
48.7858274, 22.848415

The most powerful Transcarpathian waterfall is Voevodin, which is located 12 kilometers north of the village of Turya Polyana of Perechyn district at an altitude of 600 meters. The waterfall is formed by the river Vojvodina, which flows from the summit of the Polonyna Rune (1482 meters) and flows deep into the tract, merging with the river Shipot. Obviously, the waterfall was formed as a result of an earthquake that caused the rock to break up and form a beautiful waterfall that flows into a small lake with two streams.
